

Re: the proposed change in media ownership. What we need is maximum diversity, not consolidation into fewer and more powerful conglomerates. Dissemination of news and opinions, as well as the arts and literature, should not be restricted to powerful interests. The morning newspaper's disclosure of remuneration in gift and travel to FCC members is more than a little disturbing. Our most precious right is of freedom of information. Please do retain the current ownership rules.